Message

by the Founder,

I congratulate Team India Vision Foundation and the family of collaborators for the cause the Foundation started with—‘Save the Next Victim’.

The work of this Foundation has now gone beyond, ‘Saving the Next Victim’ to ‘Self-Victory, through ‘Self-Realisation’

All socially innovative programs being provided are investments towards rebuilding their lost ‘Self Esteem’ and ‘Self Discovery’ of their own potential.

Every person, child or adult, who is benefiting from these reform measures is returning to society as an asset, not a liability.

A Herculean task is being achieved due to large hearted and socially conscientious donors led by a dedicated and creative team in the Foundation.

My deep admiration for this breakthrough over the last 25 years.

It’s been built one day at a time.

I personally thank the Magsaysay Foundation in Philippines, by making the Magsaysay Award the reason for institutionalisation of this rare movement.

Blessings now for next 25 years...

Dr. Kiran Bedi

Education for Children of Inmates

Education for Children of Inmates: The organization is committed to rebuild lives of children of prisoners through its two projects:

Crèche

India Vision Founda on's dedicated staff takes responsibility of the children of prison inmates who are upto 5 years of age by enrolling them in day-care, educational facility, where they are provided with nutritious food, emotional support & health care along with quality care and nurturing.

Children of Vulnerable Families Project

India Vision Founda on takes children over 6 years and helps them to mainstream through its Residential, Community and Home Support Program.

Amongst the 17 Goals of Sustainable Development, Goal No. 4, Target 4.2 states to ensure that all girls and boys have access to quality early childhood development, care and pre-primary education so that they are ready for primary education, because education has the potential to empower people – to build, access to information, services and help them improve their lives by breaking the vicious cycle of poverty.

To tack its progress against this mandate we must urgently look at developing systems within jails that helps India realise its commitment for Target 4.2

Crèche

“After the first Crèche in Tihar Jail by Dr. Kiran Bedi, the Supreme Court of India in its guidelines in 2006 held that “As per Hon’ble Supreme Court Guidelines given in Writ Petition (Civil) No.559/1994 in the matter R.D. Upadhyay Vs. State regarding mothers and children lodged in Jails, no child in prisons is treated either as an under trial or a convict during the stay with his/her mother. The Hon’ble Supreme Court held that a child up to six years of age shall be admitted to prison with his mother if no other arrangements, for keeping him with relatives or otherwise, can be made. Children born in prison may remain with their mothers up to six years of age, if they cannot otherwise be suitably placed. It felt that the “children of women inmates, who are in jail, require additional protection”.

Children of Vulnerable Families Project

Children of Vulnerable Families (CVF) project was started by India Vision Foundation in 1994. The primary aim and mission of this project is to mainstream & educate the innocent children of Incarcerated families. These children usually end up being liabilities to their extended families and even close relatives due to many reasons. They are usually subjected to abuse, neglect, exploitation and trauma therefore they come away from a quality childhood and are at a risk to get influenced and drawn towards bad company. This further leads them to nefarious activities. We have observed over a period of time that for many incarcerated families there is hardly any support from relatives – kith or kin due to the stigma and financial constraints to look after these children during their imprisonment conviction.

India Vision Foundation takes these children (over 6 years) under its wings. We help them to complete their primary and basic education. This paves a way for their education and vocational training through its three primary intervention:

- Residential School support
- Community Empowerment
- Home support

Residential School Support

Under this project, foundation is working with 4 partner schools, wherein nearly 140 children are provided with food, shelter and education (formal and value based education). checkups and other well-being sessions by trained social work professionals.

Community Empowerment

52 children of prison inmates under the project stay with their families/ guardians at home after their parent get released from prison. The surroundings and the environment of these homes are vulnerable to crime, where children fall prey to anti-social elements present in the vicinity of the area. Their risk of becoming the next victim of inter generational crime is high; in order to save such children project has developed a Community Centre in the area for giving opportunities to boost up their emotional, social, physical and psychological development.

Home Support

This Program extends supports to the needs of the children of incarcerated parents who are staying with their extended families. At present, 80 such children are associated with the project. They are met and counselled by the Counselors for their future life goals.

Alumni

Children who have completed their education under the primary interventions of the Project are now a part of foundation's Alumni network. The network engages alumni and students as well as future alumni in the broadest sense. Foundation does this with the dual aim of enriching the lives of existing students and building support among one's who have graduated.

Fly for Dreams

With network of over 51 alumni , foundation has initiated a group called as Fly for dreams (FDD)

“Fly for Dreams” is a formalized alumni group by India Vision Foundation created with a vision of “Giving Back to the Society” as a token of gratitude for the received social support during the most difficult period in their lives. It is the result of India Vision Foundation 25 years’ service to the society, encouraging the children of then, now adults and professionals of various service sectors come forward to serve the next generation of the vulnerable group of the society. The name Fly for dreams is a collective suggestion by the current alumni that first met on 2nd September further the leadership team evolved from further meetings. The Alumni group was formally inaugurated on 22 December 2019 with the project supported children at Asha Deep Foundation.

“Fly For Dream”- the purpose of this association is to help those children who are facing financial problem in education and encourage them to achieve their goals. I feel proud to be part of this association. I volunteer as a captain in the association. My experience of association with FDD team is: I really felt very happy to guide those children who are feeling the same as I was feeling back in my childhood. I am grateful to work with this association. - Aminoor

As alumni, I feel that this is the best initiative to protect interest of children whose parents were imprisoned. The children should be treated equally with those of other children but this we rarely see. The society saw these children as an equal victim of the crime done by their parents. Mainly these innocent children whose mind has just start growing if nurtured well they too can be the best citizen of nation. This is what the India Vision Foundation is doing and I think that can bring a great revolution in the mindset of others too. It's been fifteen years since I've been associated with IVF. My year of association is 2002. Currently I'm pursuing BA History Hons. from Swami Shraddhanand College DU, 1st year. - Meenakshi

Foundation successfully completed the home visits for those applications received from relatives outside prison and a total of 71 children were shortlisted for the admission based on their interviews in the school.

"I was never sure what would Anuj do in a Hindi Medium School. I was always worried about his company of friends and doubted that he will be spoilt. But now when I look at him, I feel proud. I did not even expect him to pass in his X boards but he secured 64% and I see how responsible he has become. I am indebted to the foundation for their support." - Nisha Mishra, Anuj's Mother

"When I was at home I used to envy my younger brothers as they had the opportunity to go to school and study. But now I have got this chance. I love to study. Though it is very difficult for me to learn all at once but I am trying to cover. The remedial classes have helped me the most. The teachers unde Iso the counselors have helped me in grooming my personality. I am grateful to India Vision Foundation for giving me such an opportunity and I promise I will work hard and make you all feel proud." - Sania, VI, Asha Deep Foundation

"Tamanna used to be silent and angry all the time. She would never answer me with a smile. But now when I talk to her she does not ignore me. I was surprised and also got emotional to witness this change in her behavior. She now laughs with me; it's a very good feeling to see that my daughter wants to bond with me. I can't thank foundation enough for all the things they have done for me. Thank you so much, India Vision Foundation. I know that my daughter in is the right hands and with your support she can never go on a wrong path." - Aamna, Tamanna Furkaan's Mother

"I did not like my earlier school. I enjoy studying here. I also got a story book on Holi and read it. I love staying at the hostel with my friends and do not want to go back." - Ali, II, Asha Deep Foundation

Psychological Interventions

To provide a cradle of love and comfort for the children from incarcerated backgrounds. Counselors make sure that children and their Psychological needs are of utmost importance and their mental health, emotional wellbeing needs are to be priority towards a better life we aim to provide. Counselors make use of group sessions and peer sessions to inculcate values and skills in a group setup and also have individual support for a more personal, confidential and focused attention.

In the past years psychological interventions have allowed the organization to provide a safety net for vulnerable children who have seen crime, violence and upheaval early in their lives. The individual sessions have allowed the children to delve into their personal problems with the knowledge that the counselors are there to hold their hand through all kinds of difficulties. This has also started a culture of talking about their feelings rather than taking it out unceremoniously. The group and peer sessions on the other hand have enabled children to learn various life skills in cooperation and collaboration with each other.

Sensitizing Parents through Meetings

Srijan - A parents' capacity building workshop was organized for the parents of all residential schools, home support and community support schools. In total 46 parents gathered to be a part of the event that celebrated parenthood through various games and activities.

"After my child started staying in the hostel I felt a rift was created between us because I did not know what he was doing in the hostel, how was he studying at his school, was he getting proper food; also my greatest fear was that he would involve himself in fights. But attending today's session made me realize that my child is at a safe and secure place. I got to know about his daily routine, I am extremely happy that he gets healthy and nutritious food. Looking at his happy face in the pictures, I felt as if living the moment with him. I am thankful to India Vision Foundation for this day."

- Kamlesh, Govind's mother.

Second Parents Capacity Building Session, under PEHEL was organized at Residential Partner School Asha Deep Foundation (ADF) under Children Vulnerable Families Project (CVF). The session focused on importance of parental guidance for the bright future of children through various activities.

Strengthening the bond – Parents Children meeting

A unique initiative by the foundation to make sure children bond with their parents, this meeting aims to provide emotional stability helps to nurture and ensure the well-being of the child. Children feel happy to spend time with their parents. Mothers prepare special meals for them during such meetings. During one of the meetings Gopal, one of our child got a chance to meet his elder brother and uncle too. When Sonam, Ayush & Arjun from Ashadeep met their parents, they were very excited to share their experience about Kids on Rampage (KOR). They shared with them that how happy they felt while walking the ramp and see everyone clap & cheer for them. Sonam, told her mother that other than her academic activities she has learnt to make different hair styles as a part of her Vocational Classes in School. She even gave a demo to her by making a lovely braid. During the visits few activities like jigsaw puzzle solving, drawing and making pearl necklace along with the meet are also planned, these are conducted in order to see how well parents understand and coordinate with their children. Such activities not only help the bond to grow stronger but also help parents to realize their responsibilities for a better future of their children.

Purpose

Bonding between mother and the child. Providing emotional stability to the child. Ensuring the well-being of the child. For nurturing and securing attachment. Aims at family union for the child

Volunteer Engagement and Impact

Culture Exchange Programme

Project Kiran with Temasek Polytechnic, Singapore foundation's first of its kind Culture Exchange programme with Temasek Polytechnic, Singapore, where 10 students from diverse fields spent time with 22 girls from Assisi convent under their voluntary community service programme Project Kiran under the leadership of Ms. Amy Amrita Daga & Mr. Justin. This 5 day learning programme helped children to boost their morale & confidence and also interact with individuals coming from diverse backgrounds. Project Kiran gave children a chance to become the Cultural Ambassadors by accompanying Temasek Polytechnic students to a short one day trip to Agra Fort & Taj Mahal. Children not only benefited from the trip in terms of information about these heritage sites, but also gained a lot of exposure through interaction with the students. In order, to carry forward this amazing bond; students from the university under the Campus Ambassador Programme (CAP) of the foundation initiated a campaign to raise funds for Menstrual Hygiene management. This initiative envisaged to holistically empower girls by increasing their knowledge and awareness, focus on the importance of menstrual health & hygiene; provide greater comfort in accessibility and disposal of sanitary napkins, thus resulting in greater confidence and advancement in their overall development.

Further, with continuous efforts by students the campaign became a success and helped the foundation to purchase & install a Sanitary Napkin dispenser and incinerator for children at Ashadeep Sadan, Assisi Convent School, Noida.

Campus Ambassador 101

With the success of PROJECT KIRAN another Culture exchange named as Campus Ambassador 101 was organized with 20 students from Temasek Polytechnic, Singapore under the leadership of Ms. Amy Amrita Daga & Mr. Justin for 10 days. The employees at Corbus were very excited and actively took part in the orientation session for this activity. Extending heartfelt THANKS to CORBUS for helping our children with these stationery items! This activity had a very nice response and the employees shared their lovely memories with all of us. Activity helped the employees to relate with the little joys they felt as a child.

Employee Engagement Programe with HELM 360,

Since HELM also completed its 21 years, the day was celebrated through theme based activities like poster making and treasure hunt aimed to build rapport between the children and the employees. The visit also helped the children to learn about the office environment and its working. Children enjoyed their day out which they readily shared as their feedback with the HELM team.

Volunteer testimonials

Featuring Braelyn Chatterjea

Braelyn is a third year student from James Madison University, United States. She shared with us "This past summer, I interned for the communications department of India Vision Foundation. As a third year college student from the United States, the entire experience left me feeling fulfilled in more ways than one and more knowledgeable of a foreign NGO's work practices. Throughout the month of working there, I was given several responsibilities that aligned with my own interests. India Vision provided me with a comprehensive work plan ripe with challenges, thought-provoking tasks, knowledge of NGO work as an institution, and all-around better insight of what I'd like to do in the future. As far as the office and employee interactions, I felt welcome every day upon arrival and each person was equally approachable."

" Working with these children at Asha Sadan has been an eye-opening experience for me. Through our sharing, we wanted them to expand their learning horizons and be more confident..."

Amalina, Singapore, Project Kiran 2018

Summer interns

Our summer interns had such a good time with our community children under our Children of Vulnerable Families Project (CVF). From some interactive powerpoint sessions to some very exciting dance and singing sessions these children thoroughly enjoyed this short visit to Bawana. Such learning exposures not only help the children to meet these young enthusiastic individuals but also help them to see beyond boundaries and aspire for a better life ahead. This was first visit by our summer interns and we got a very heartwarming response from them.

Sustainable Development Goal (SDG)

Sustainable Development Goals 2030 Agenda

The Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), otherwise known as the Global Goals, are a universal call to action to end poverty, protect the planet and ensure that all people enjoy peace and prosperity. These 17 Goals build on the successes of the Millennium Development Goals, while including new areas such as climate change, economic inequality, innovation, sustainable consumption, peace and justice, among other priorities. The goals are interconnected – often the key to success on one will involve tackling issues more commonly associated with another.
